* Note: Core courses which are primarily scheduled in a single term of the year MAY have an additional section added if there is sufficient student demand for additional sections, if the department has the budget to offer additional sections, and if the department has faculty available to teach additional sections. These courses are noted in the rotation as "(added)" courses. For example, if there is a large waitlist for CMPS 3560 in Spring, an additional section may be added to Summer or the following Fall.
